

Halton Regional Councillor Named Chair of AMO's Regional and Single-Tier Caucus

December 4, 2018

At the most recent Board meeting of the Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO), Halton Regional Councillor Colin Best was selected as Chair of the Board's Regional and Single-Tier Caucus.

In this position, Best will serve on the Board's Executive and help set policy for the association. He will also attend meetings with the Province, which are held as part of the AMO's Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Government of Ontario.

"AMO's caucuses represent the diversity of Ontario's municipal governments and give a voice to the shared interests of their members. We are pleased that Colin has stepped into the role of Chair of the Regional and Single-Tier Caucus as the Board fills its vacancies," said AMO President, Jamie McGarvey.

"I would like to congratulate Councillor Best on his appointment as Chair of AMO's Regional and Single Tier Caucus," said Regional Chair Gary Carr. "By working together through AMO's Board, we can bring forward shared priorities and I am pleased that Council Best is part of the municipal voice at the AMO table."

"I am pleased to accept the position of Regional and Single Tier Caucus Chair and look forward to participating in the Association's important work," commented Councillor Best. "It is important that Halton be involved as a region in the work of AMO and I look forward to bringing a strong Caucus voice to the AMO Board."

About the Association of Municipalities of Ontario:

AMO is a non-profit organization representing almost all of Ontario's 444 municipal governments. AMO supports strong and effective municipal government in Ontario and promotes the value of municipal government as a vital and essential component of Ontario and Canada's political system.
